

Amy

Well it's letter time!! After my dumb ass forgot last week I won't miss this one. It's the home stretch (I can't spell :() and I know it can get stressful but that's okay. I know you and I know you got this, and I will be here every step of the way. Before you start to stress lets remember and reflect on some things that you've accomplished.

- 1) You landed a summer internship, not just one tho, you got two because you're that good. I know that process in itself isn't easy but you did it.
- 2) You worked like a dog for years and got yourself a car. This point isn't about your ability to deal with stress. This is to point out your drive and commitment to the things you want. I know you want a job, and I know you're going to get it.
- 3) You became an RA, Tutoring Student Coordinator, worked in the daycare, became a babysitter, and more. No matter what the challenge is and who you're up against you come out on top.

These are just some of the things ~~you're~~ you've accomplished and I know you're not done. Amy I know these times are stressful and draining but if theres anyone I believe in it's you, you're strong, smart, and committed. You got this and whatever you need please just ask me and I'll be more than happy to help. Also if theres anything you need to talk about that ~~any~~ may feel odd I want you to know I'm here, judge free. I may not know the big words but I'll always be here to listen and help. You got this!!!

Love your best best friend
