

Amy,

HELLOOOOOO Its been awhile since a letter and for that I am sorry. So todays topic class is why men aren't shit!! Jk but not really because they do suck. But honestly I have this letter because it's a Friday and I have a lot of things to say that's too long for a website post. First off I want to just say that you truly are amazing and one of the best and that's not a lie. You're always there and you always make an effort no matter what it may be for. That's one thing that I really like about you and our friendship is that no matter what you're going to be an adult about things and not be like some of these other bitches.

When you told me about this little boy who lied to you because he was worried you wouldn't talk to him (which is a bs excuse) it honestly made me mad because that makes no sense. I know that you're not the type of person to be texting and be rude besides some jokes so idk why he thought that. No matter what and no matter what happens I want you to know something. At the end of the day you need to put Amy first and that goes for everything. Amy is the one who gets to control her own life and decide what she wants to do and who she talks to. You're nothing but honest with people and you don't hold back so why settle for someone who clearly is not mature. People always say "girls are so picky" yes they can be when then demand a 6' 19" man who makes 10 billion a year but you have the right to be picky because you bring so much to the table so fuck it be picky.

Just remember that you're an amazing person and that no matter what happens there will always be the next person, the next thing, or whatever the case may be. You're a hell of a person and I'm so grateful every day to call you my friend and to be able to have this friendship with you. Know your worth and know that you're not just going to settle for okay, you want what you want and that's okay. So keep popping pussy and whatever you need let me know!!

Your Girly Pop

Edward :)
